

Special Virtual Issue on Families and Housing Published by Family & Consumer Sciences Research Journal

December 2009— Family & Consumer Sciences Research Journal has published an online-only issue focusing on families and housing. This issue addresses some of the most urgent problems and issues related to people and their housing. The collection provides an interesting glimpse into housing issues faced by today's households and a platform on which to build future housing research.

Housing, Interior Design and Equipment Associate Editor JoAnn Emmel and Journal Editor Sharon A. DeVaney curated the issue from articles published in Family & Consumer Sciences Research Journal from March 2006 – June 2009.

View the issue here: www.wiley.com/bw/vi.asp?ref=1077-727X&site=1

About Family & Consumer Sciences Research Journal:

A major vehicle for the dissemination of new research, the Family & Consumer Sciences Research Journal (www.interscience.wiley.com/journal/fcsr) covers the richness, diversity and interdisciplinarity that characterize family and consumer sciences today. From consumerism, human development, and family studies to housing, technology, nutrition, and textiles, the FCSRJ keeps you up-to-date on this complex and vital field. It is the journal of the American Association of Family & Consumer Sciences. (www.aafcs.org)